Leadership

Adam came to Mt. Rainier in 1999 to work as a climbing guide for Rainier Mountaineering, Inc. Guiding on Mt. Rainier launched an international climbing career with International Mountain Guides that took him to Africa, Nepal, Tibet, Argentina, Alaska, and Mexico. During these travels Adam began capturing images of the fantastic locations that he visited. "In the beginning I wanted to show people what we saw on expeditions and try to bring a little of the magic home to them. I soon realized that the real magic is in the humanity that you encounter while traveling the world. We are all climbing a mountain, that's life. Lessons learned in the mountains helps us get the most out of every day." Today Adam Angel Photography revolves around people. It is a blend of images from around the world at large and an active studio and gallery. Adam is based in Historic Downtown Morton in the foothills of Mt. Rainier.

Camera Gear

The photo gear list is not a shopping list, but merely a suggested mid-point for equipment. You do not need everything on the list, but if you want to bring more that is fine.

- Digital camera and Lenses.
- Dedicated on camera flash if you have one
- Batteries for camera and flash.

IMPORTANT: THIS IS A LEGAL DOCUMENT

Please read and understand this document before signing. If you have any questions please consult us and/or your attorney. Please review and sign with spouse (or parent if minor)

Mt. Rainier Institute of Photography, (hereinafter also referred to as "MRIP") has taken care to assure that our Participants have a rewarding experience. We wish to inform our Participants that hiking and travel are not risk free. The same elements that contribute to the unique character and fun of being in the mountains, such as the physical exertion of hiking, can cause loss or damage to equipment, injury, illness, or in extreme cases, permanent trauma, paralysis, or death. We do not want to heighten or reduce your enthusiasm for the experience, but we do want you to know in advance what to expect and to be informed of some of the possible risks. We ask that you read this acknowledgement of risk, sign it, and return the original documents it to our office.

ACKNOWLEDGMENT OF RISK

In consideration of the services of Mt. Rainier Institute of Photography, their officers, agents, employees, and stockholders, and all other persons or entities associated with those businesses (hereinafter collectively referred to as "MRIP") I agree as follows:

Although MRIP has taken reasonable steps to provide me with appropriate equipment and skilled guides/instructors so I can enjoy an activity for which I may not be skilled, MRIP has informed me this activity is not without risk. Certain risks are inherent in each activity and cannot be eliminated without destroying the unique character of the activity. These inherent risks are some of the same elements that contribute to the unique character of this activity and can be the cause of loss or damage to my equipment, or accidental injury, illness, or in extreme cases, permanent trauma or death. MRIP does not want to frighten me or reduce my enthusiasm for this activity, but believes it is important for me to know in advance what to expect and to be informed of the inherent risks. The following describes some, but not all, of those risks.

You, the Participant, need to understand that you are going to be entering an environment with hazard and risks, including those associated with traveling out of doors, and with the forces of nature. Below is a list of the possible hazards but not all of the hazards you may encounter. Travel is by vehicle and on foot. Travel by foot is over unpredictable trail and slippery rocks. Attendant risks include vehicle accidents, falling, drowning, and others usually associated with such travel, as well as environmental risks. Many times the risks associated with transportation can be the greatest risk itself. You assume the risk of all travel arranged by yourself or by MRIP. Environmental risks include rapidly moving, deep or cold water, insects, snakes, and predators including large animals, falling and rolling rock, lightning, flash floods, and unpredictable forces of nature, including weather that may change to extreme conditions without notice. Additional risks are frostbite, high altitude illness, sunburn, heatstroke, dehydration, and other mild or serious conditions.

You may trek at altitude to which you will not be accustomed. Altitude sickness is the term used to describe the effects on a human body at altitudes higher than the person is accustomed to. Altitude sickness is usually associated with nausea, headaches and a loss of appetite. Altitude sickness can lead to conditions that may result in death. However, the Participant must exercise their own ability and thought in keeping safe and secure, and is solely liable for their safety and that absent direction from MRIP it is his or her decision to travel, return home at any time. Throughout the trip, Participant is responsible for his or her own safety and for the safety of other members of their group. Participant agrees to adhere to all decisions made by the employees, contractors, field instructors, owners and members of MRIP at all times. Participant understands that those decisions may be based on many factors, including the overall safety of the group. Participant understands and agrees to those decisions, which are in fact the way most professionally conducted trips operate.

MRIP FORM 4: Acknowledgement of Risk (Page 2 of 2)

I understand the description of these inherent risks is not complete and that other unknown or unanticipated inherent risks may result in injury or death. My participation in this activity is purely voluntary, no one is forcing me to participate, and I elect to participate in spite of and with full knowledge of the inherent risks.

I acknowledge that engaging in this activity may require a degree of skill and knowledge different than other activities and that I have responsibilities as a participant. I acknowledge that the staff of MRIP has been available to more fully explain to me the nature and physical demands of this activity and the inherent risks, hazards, and dangers associated with this activity.

I certify that I am fully capable of participating in this activity.
